ST. LOUIS CHECKS THE FAST FLYING GIANTS

Spoils Home-Coming of New York Team with the Help of Joe Willis.

MEYERS MAKES HOME RUN

This Alone Saves McGraw's Men from Coat of Whitewash, as Hits Are Few and Far Between.

After cleaning up with great thorough ness all around the National League circuit, the Giants returned to the Polo Grounds yesterday and were defeated by the St. Louis Cardinals. For the third time this season they had a chance to make a record of ten straight victories, but were balked in the attempt. Joe Willis, a young southpaw of superior worth, stood in the with a fine brand of pitching. He held the champions to five scattered hits, and if Big Chief Meyers had not taken it into his head to bounce the ball off the right field fence for a home run in the third frame New York would have been shut out for the first time this year. The final score of the game was 5 to 1. The young St. Louis twirler was in fine fettle and mowed down the serried ranks of McGraw with exceeding skill. Willis one of the spring crop of pitchers. He was tried out by the St. Louis Browns in 1911 and found wanting. Roger Bresnahan snapped him up from a Class D league last winter, and coached him into form that has made the going hard for nearly every nine that he has faced. Such was the case vesterday. McGraw's men were unable to do anything with him. For eight innings they were forced to worry along with only three hits, and the two in the and St. Louis won by a score of 9 to 1. ninth were carefully separated by outs so The Tigers' lone tally was scored in the that they amounted to nothing.

George Wiltse was Willis's opponent, and | tripled. he, too, was in rare form. The two runs which the visitors secured early in the fray were due in a large degree to errors Devore and Larry Doyle. Hooks twirled for eight innings, allowing five hits and not giving a pass. He fanned six men. McGraw pulled him out of the box in the last of the eighth to let Burns bat, in the nope of starting a rally. Tesreau finished the game, and the Cardinals made sure of the victory by tallying three runs while he was in the box. Big Jeff allowed four hits and gave a pass. These were enough t sew up the game for the visitors. There was a lot of sharp fielding shown on both sides. Becker did some remarkable work in centrefield for the Giants, while Magee and Hauser for the Cardinals fielded many a hard at ball in the most approved manner. Roger Bresnahan was behind the plate urging his minions on to deeds of valor and putting a damper on the base stealing campaign of the Giants. Murray was the only player who got away with a pilfered bag.

The Cardinals took the lead in the first inning. Magee struck out as a starter, but Ellis got two bases on Devore's muff and tallied on Mowrey's single to left. Ko-netchy flied to Murray, while Mowrey died stealing, Meyers to Fletcher.

Another run was added in the second frame. Evans was easy, grounding out to Snodgrass, but Hauser beat out a slow one to Herzog. He stole second, and would have scored but for the fine work of Doyle. who held Oakes's smash to an infield hit. Meyers got under one of Bresnahan's high fouls and killed off Roger, Hauser and Oakes then perpetrated a double steal, Doyle making a wretched return to Meyers, so that Hauser scored with ease.

Wiltse then proceeded to tighten up like drum, and the St. Louis attack was halted for a while. But the Giants could do The Chinese baseball team which is mak- batting of the men behind him. their opponents had taken. With the advent of Tesreau, the visitors proceeded to score a few more runs. Mowrey was safe on Herzog's fumble of a hot liner which went for a hit. Konetchy forced Mowrey, Tesreau to Fletcher, but Evans singled through Fletcher, and Hauser singled to centre, filling the bases. Oakes dropped a fly back of short, but lost a hit when Burns threw to Herzog, forcing Evans at third, Konetchy scoring on the play. Bresnahan walked and Willis Toledo, 8: Indianapolis, 5. singled to right, scoring Hauser and Oakes. Magee flied out to Becker.

being idlers on the bases each time.

The Giants attempted to start something in the last of the ninth, but Willis was too much for them. Snodgrass was easy, while Murray singled cleanly to centre. Becker fanned and Herzog singled to centre. Meyers then lifted to Oakes and the crowd dispersed. The score follows:

Rucker Comes to the Rescue in Second Game and Shows Great Form.

Easily outplaying the half finished. oarsely woven baseball team which Johnny Kling, formerly of Chicago, but now from the fashionable Back Bay sec tion of the country, put in the field, the Brooklyn Superbas continued their dashing, victorious career at the expense of the Boston Braves in Washington Park yesterday afternoon. The teams met in a double header, since only one game was played on Memorial Day, and Brooklyn captured both games with ease and not a little grace. The first of these stirring encounters was won by a score of 9 to 3, while the final scene was closed while the tallies showed a count of 8 to 3. Bill Dahlen, for some unknown reason, was nowhere in sight, and Billy Keeler was in command of the men. Signs of life developed in the Superbas early in the first game, and under direction and inspiration of Keeler they never once thought of letting up. Through out the afternoon they swung the old hickory wand with determination and effect, to the utter dejection of five Boston pitchers who tried in vain to stem the tide. Jake Daubert, the great first baseman, was the leading spirit in the affray. In both games Jake made five hits, two of which were triples off the centre field fence. Red Smith collected for two hits, but one of these bounced off the bull in left fleid for a circuit clincher. Likewise, "Long" John Hummel and "Texas" Erwin were among the sluggers of the day. Jackson starrred with the willow for Boston, and had four hits, three of which came in the second
